InterManager

Dear Potential Member,

InterManager is the international trade association for the ship management industry.

Our members are in-house or third party ship managers, crew managers, or related organisations, as well as related maritime businesses and organisations.

Collectively, InterManager members are involved in the management of more than 7,500 ships and responsible for more than 250,000 seafarers.

InterManager is the only organisation dedicated to representing the ship and crew management industry. It is an internationally-recognised and well-respected organisation, which represents its members at international level, lobbying on their behalf to ensure their views and needs are taken into account within the worldwide maritime industry.

Under its President, Bjørn Jebsen, InterManager's key goals on behalf of its members include:

- driving efficiency on board and ashore
- overcoming administrative burdens
- emphasising education and training

With 90% of all seafarers employed by crew or ship managers, wouldn't it make sense to be part of the InterManager family?

The committee's deliverables of Phase 1 are as follows: revised standards for access and ventilation of enclosed spaces; revisions of processes for cleaning and ventilation; and revision on requirement leading to enclosed space entry.

Adopt A Ship

We aim to increase the general public's awareness of seafarers, shipping, and the maritime community, with a focus on the younger generation. This project connects children to a ship captain where they are able to exchange emails once a week and track where the ship is traveling to spark their interest in the shipping and maritime industry from a young age.
